

Studying science

Students showcase projects at fair

Contributed photo

Stamford High School juniors Katelyn Imbornoni, Heather Zajdel and Alexandra Flagg are accompanied by their biology professor, Frank Labianca, at the High School Science Fair at Norwalk Community College's Academic Festival on April 3.

More than 100 students from throughout Connecticut presented projects related to biology, chemistry and physics. Topics ranged from "Analysis of Airport Security Inspection" to "How Spiritual Treatment Affects the Growth of Plants."